Library Week Eye-Spy Scavenger Hunt

Walk around the library building and see if you can find the figures hidden in the windows from the clues below. REMEMBER: Please follow social distancing rules at all times!

★ I love my white shoes and groovy buttons and know that when life gets tough, it’s still “all good”.
★ Whatever you do, even if I beg: Do Not Let Me Drive the Bus!!!!
★ Sometimes my need to know about the world gets me in trouble, but I’m super cute and a great friend.
★ I may not look like someone you would like to kiss, but if you go for it, I may surprise you.
★ We are unlikely friends, but if you crack into our books, we will have you reading on your own in no time!
★ I am the creation of beloved author Theodor Geisel, who, although not a medical doctor, is an expert at making kids laugh.
★ If you give me a cookie, be prepared to pour me a glass of milk—with a straw!
★ I don’t mind getting sent to bed without any supper if it means I can take part in a wild rumpus and be the king of all who are unruly.
★ Traveling from the darkest Peru I move in with a British family. I often don’t quite get things right and love my marmalade.
★ Moving from the jungle to Paris, I move in with an Old Lady who teaches me the ways of humans. I return to the jungle where I am crowned king and I marry my beloved Celeste and we have a large family.
★ I am a precocious orphan living in Paris. Though I always have fun ideas, they often land me in sticky situations.
★ My love of vegetables brings me to Mr. McGregor’s garden, where I have a narrow escape and lose something precious.
★ My illustrated journal explains that though middle school life is tough, I have it mostly under control, even with the looming threat of The Cheese Touch.
★ I am obsessed with a certain color, but after overindulging in cupcakes featuring my favorite color, my own color starts to change. Help!
★ Known as the Bard of Avon I wrote around 37 plays and over 150 poems! Check some out this month as we celebrate National Poetry Month.

Good Luck & Happy Hunting! 😊😊😊😊😊
